

Rum Runners Get $432,000 In Fine Whisky

Dry Agents Interrupt Daring
Baltimore Raid Just in Time to Prevent Loss of $2,000,000 to Warehouse

Sixteen Men Arrested

Officers Now Searching
Wide Range of Country to Apprehend Others

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE TRIBUNE
BALTIMORE, Dec. 11.—An attempted $2,000,000 liquor warehouse robbery here last night was interrupted by enforcement officials after twenty-five auto truck runners, believed to be seeking a supply for the New York bootleg market, had spent away 3,600 cases, or $432,000 worth, of choice bourbon whisky. Sixteen men were arrested and four trucks were seized. The theft is said by enforcement officials here to be the largest attempted warehouse raid since the country went dry. The liquor was part of 180,000 quarts of the finest whisky the country has to offer and would have brought more than $10 a quart in the bootleg market. It was stored in the warehouse of the Canton Distilleries, being held for export.

Prohibition headquarters in Washington immediately ordered out 400 prohibition agents in five states, including New York and New Jersey, in an attempt to intercept and seize the escaped trucks and arrest the fugitives. All roads leading out of Maryland toward New York are being guarded by prohibition agents. Many agents were engaged in searching garages on all highways in the belief that the fugitive trucks may have put in at one of them to escape detection. Wooded places and all other possible hiding places were being combed at nightfall last night. Efforts also were being made to prevent the trucks reaching New York City under cover of darkness.

The battery of eight trucks to be used in the robbery drove up to the distillery after dark. The drivers, led by a plausible individual, won the confidence of the warehouse guards and were permitted to enter for the removal of 15,000 cases of whisky.

This permit was later seized and is described by officials as a "carrier's permit." It was not backed by a necessary official permit. When the rum runners gained access to the warehouse they began loading the bourbon whisky indiscriminately in cases of quarts, pints and half pints. Four highways had been closed and headed away from the warehouse in the general direction of New York when the police and prohibition forces learned of the raid.

Kissick Relieved as Head Of Brooklyn Dry Squad

William P. Lord Succeeds Him
in Reorganization of State
Prohibition Forces

Announcement was made yesterday that in the reorganization of the state prohibition forces under E. C. Yellowley, William F. Kissick has been relieved as head of the Brooklyn office and William P. Lord placed in charge. Judge Charles F. Farmer, it was announced, also had been succeeded by Roscoe P. Harper as a member of the legal division.

Abraham Weinstein, forty-three years old, of 55 East Ninety-third street, was taken into custody yesterday by Detective Edward M. Dorlesky, who charges he found the boy carrying a gallon of alcohol. The boy later was taken to the City Hall, where the detective alleges he found a still in operation.

Following a collision last night between a taxi and an automobile, owned by Samuel B. Quinn, of West Sixty-ninth street, at Fifty-eighth street and Third Avenue, the police found in the taxi five and ten gallon containers of alleged whisky. Police are looking for the driver of the cab, who fled following the collision.

Take Negro From Hospital In Texas and Lynch Him

Packers' Employee Had Shot
Two Brothers, Pickets in Fort Worth Strike

Rouse made a desperate effort to fight members of the party delegated to find him. He was put in an automobile and hurried away.

Twenty minutes later his body was found dangling from a tree.

New Rochelle Unveils Bronze Victory Memorial

Supreme Court Justice Young Refers to New Treaty for Peace in His Tribute

A bronze figure of Victory of heroic size was unveiled yesterday in New Rochelle, N. Y., as a memorial to the men of that city who served in the World War. The principal address was delivered by Justice J. Addison Young, of the Supreme Court, who said:

"It is indeed significant that we pay our tribute to the men of New Rochelle who took part in the great war a few hours after the four great nations of the earth at our capital have made an agreement which is full of hope for future peace and so short and simple that it must be effective. It is thrilling to recall that our boys have made this possible. Had they not done their part 'over there' there would have been no peace conference 'over here.'"

Above the names of sixty-one soldiers from New Rochelle are engraved on the face of the monument are these words: "To the men of New Rochelle who served in the great war for the rights of humanity."

The memorial was suggested by the New Rochelle Art Association, of which E. Irving Hanson is chairman; Columbus O'Donnell, Iselin, treasurer, and Edward G. Reynolds, secretary. The ceremony was attended by members of the American Legion, Grand Army of the Republic and non-commissioned officers from Fort Slocum who served in France.

The soldiers were under the command of George W. Melver. There were invocations by Rabbi Richard M. Stern and Chaplain Houlihan, U. S. A. Many wreaths were placed on the monument by Mayor Harry Scott.

U. S. Sailor Is Marooned 20 Years on an Island

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 4 (By Mail).

Shipwrecked and marooned for twenty years on one of the Caroline Islands, is the experience of an American, James Howard, sole survivor of the American bark, Iolanto, which went on the shoals of Kusaie Island in 1901. The news of Howard's condition was brought here this week by Dr. William H. Hobbs, of the University of Michigan, who has been engaged in seismic research work in the Caroline group.

Dr. Hobbs said Howard was cared for by the natives and finally became acquainted with a German trading concern, which place he held until the Japanese took over the islands, under the mandate from the League of Nations.

A year and a half ago, a stroke of paralysis made Howard almost helpless and unable to work. Since that time he has been taken care of by Chief Nampai, of Rookit, who has given him food, clothing and medicine.

"Chief Nampai has American blood in him, speaks English well and is a man of sterling integrity," said Dr. Hobbs. Howard's case was laid by Dr. Hobbs before acting governor, Charles E. Yeater, of the Philippines, who has suggested to the War Department that the Japanese be asked to furnish transportation from Panopio to Yokohama for Howard, so that he may take passage on an army transport and finally reach his home in Utica, Ohio.

Fight in Erin Against Peace Plan Waning

and against the new Irish treaty. Those best informed see no reason to modify their view that the treaty will be accepted by the Irish people.

It is believed that Eamon de Valera and his supporters will have powerful aid from Charles Burgess, the Minister of Defence, who is eloquent and persuasive, while the brunt of the defence of the treaty is likely to fall on Michael Collins, who, in the opinion of some writers, will find himself greatly handicapped by all the complimentary things the English press has been saying about him since the settlement was reached.

Bonar Law to Accept It

It is admitted that Andrew Bonar Law, even if not approving all the clauses of the treaty, has decided to accept it in principle, or, at least, not to offer substantial opposition, his view being that Ulster is sufficiently protected by the privilege of contracting out.

The small body of "die-hards" in the House of Commons, numbering about fifty, had counted on Mr. Bonar Law, and their opposition to the treaty is likely to evaporate measurably, wanting only a little more.

Premier Lloyd George has been utilizing the week-end at Chequers Court in preparation of his speech for December 14th in the House of Commons. He is expected to speak an hour and a half and to make a powerful plea for the treaty. It is believed that the debate will be concluded more speedily than was at first thought possible and that the treaty may be ratified and the session closed by the end of the week. The necessary legislation to give effect to the settlement will be introduced at the new session in February.

Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, who has been conferring with the Prime Minister in London, returned to Belfast to-night, but no definite expression of Ulster's attitude is looked for until the fate of the treaty in the hands of the Daily Eireann is known.

Reynolds reports that Ulster is demanding some financial concessions on lines similar to the privileges southern Ireland will get under the treaty. Sir Robert Stevenson Horn, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a speech at Newcastle Saturday expressed the conviction that no responsible Ulster statesman would think of claiming a lower rate of taxation for Ulster than that granted to the rest of the country. He is reported to have said that Ulster getting such relief except by coming into the treaty.

Carlson is Handicapped
In some quarters importance is attached to Sir Edward Carlson's strong opposition to the treaty, and some Ulsterites evidently still hope that he will champion their cause. He could do this effectively, however, only by resigning his post as Lord of Appeals and re-engaging in politics, which is not considered likely.

The Ulster Premier, on leaving to-night, declined to say anything about the new government of Ireland, or about his friends on the other side," he explained, "that we will observe the strictest reserve, and in the present critical and anxious time I think that course will best serve the interests of all concerned."

Lord Middleton, leader of the southern Unionists, in a letter to Premier Lloyd George, urged him to insist in accordance with the government's pledges and the terms of the 1920 act, certain questions should be the subject of an agreed settlement before the transfer of powers to the new government of Ireland. These questions include the completion of the land purchase, the question of dual taxation in the two counties and provisions for compensation for losses during the recent unrest in Ireland.

There was no attendance of David Eireann Cabinet members at the Mansion House in Dublin to-day, but the peace settlement was referred to in most of the Irish churches. An interesting problem has arisen as to whether the four Unionist members for Dublin University, in attending the Dublin Eireann meeting Wednesday, will be challenged to take the oath of allegiance to the Sinn Fein. It is declared they will refuse if so challenged.

Irish Freedom Friends Demand Conflict Go On

Denounce London Agreement and Pledge $2,500,000 to the Struggle for Republic

The Friends of Irish Freedom pledged themselves yesterday to raise $2,500,000 to continue the fight for an Irish republic, to combat British propaganda and assist in the break-up of the British Empire. Thomas P. Cooney, of Providence, was elected president of the order, succeeding Bishop M. J. Coughlin, of Detroit.

For two days the organization in convention at the Hotel Astor has listened to speaker after speaker denounce the Irish peace agreement as a compromise with slavery; also they have heard the Washington conference derided as a British scheme to reduce the United States to the status of a dominion. This oratory bore fruit yesterday afternoon in resolutions condemning the four-power Pacific treaty that takes the place of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, protesting against the Hughes plan to reduce the American Navy and demanding that Great Britaincede to the United States all West Indian possessions or else grant these islands independence.

The convention phrased its objections to the Anglo-Irish agreement in this language:

"The Irish representatives, at a conference at London with members of the British government, have agreed on terms of peace and signed an agreement which has yet to be ratified by David Eireann and by the British Parliament. By the expressed terms of this agreement (which has been published in full with the signatures of the Irish and English representatives attached) Ireland is to remain in the British Empire under the designation of 'The Irish Free State' on condition that her representatives swear fealty to the King of England, who is given authority to appoint a Governor-General to function as representative of the English crown in Ireland. The principal ports, coastal fortifications, submarine cables and wireless stations are to remain under the military control of England, and it is also provided that Ireland is to pay a proportion of the enormous British public debt."

"We reiterate our belief that the munition of Ireland enrolled in the Irish Republic is now a womanhood of Ireland who have endured untold suffering and made sacrifices unsurpassed in history never intended that their blood and the lives of their children should be a charge in the character of English rule in Ireland for any measure of freedom less than national independence."

Daniel E. Colahan, of the Supreme Court, presided, both in Irish and English. Among the speakers were Egyptians, East Indians and participants in the Irish Easter rebellion of 1916.

Nervy Deputy Sheriff Captures Mob Suspects

Goes Alone Into Mountains and Brings Back Three Accused of Attack on Jail

JACKSON, Ky., Dec. 11.—Three alleged members of the band of masked men that attacked the county jail here early Saturday morning, shot to death Albert Robert, a deputy jailer, and probably mortally wounded the daughter and daughter-in-law of Jailer J. A. Allen, gave themselves up late to-day. Other members of the party, it is said, will surrender within the next few hours.

The men, W. P. Watts, Sam Grigaby and Tony Porter, kinsmen of Bud Noble, said to be leader of the gang, surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Flint Davis, who, unaccompanied, went to the mountain cabin of Hiram Watts, father of W. P. Watts, in the John Little's Creek section of this (Breathitt) county.

Davis, who was at the head of one of the posse of armed citizens that have been scouring the mountains in pursuit of the men, left his followers several miles from the cabin. Approaching the house, Davis told Hiram Watts that his son and Grigaby and Porter were suspected of being members of the band. The three men, who were in the cabin at the time, signified their willingness to surrender to Davis, who has them in custody in the jail. Soldier Negie, son of Bud Noble, and two of his companions are said to have sent word to Davis that they were on their way to the cabin to surrender.

Union Board Never O. K'd Milk Strike, Briggs Says

Also Lacked Indorsement of Teamsters' Brotherhood,
Men's Leader Admits

G. W. Briggs, general auditor of the Milk Wagon Drivers' Union and the chief leader of the striking milk drivers, issued a statement yesterday explaining that neither the union's general executive board nor the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, with which the organization is affiliated, ever indorsed the strike.

This was received with considerable astonishment in view of the fact that the leaders of the strike have stated repeatedly that the strike had the support of the national parent organization. Briggs is also said to have stated that "all responsibilities and blunders that have been made are to be laid on my shoulders as an individual, and no one else."

A resolution recommending a mass meeting of the strikers in Brooklyn expressed determination "to continue Mr. Briggs as our leader until the end."

Though this resolution, taken in connection with the statement of Briggs, would indicate that the New York locals have broken away from their national organizations and will prosecute the strike as independent bodies, the statement of Briggs could not be reached to confirm it.

Release of Protestants Demanded by Ulster Labor

BELFAST, Dec. 11 (By The Associated Press).—The Ulster Unionist Labor Association Saturday night demanded the immediate unconditional release of all Protestants who now are in jail charged with offenses in connection with the present state of Ireland.

There were numerous shooting affrays in various Belfast districts to-night. The only casualty reported, however, was Constable Tracy, who was wounded during a disturbance in the Old Bridge Road. At Castledillon, Constable Jackson was shot and wounded.

Considerable bitterness over the Irish agreement was evinced Saturday night at various public meetings in Ulster. This was particularly noticeable where gatherings refused to acknowledge local troops.

Erin a Shambles Again If Plan Fails, Envoy Says

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Stephen O'Mara, Mayor of Limerick, Ireland, and fiscal envoy to the United States, in an address here to-night in behalf of the Irish loan, asserted that the issue in Ireland raised by the peace treaty is vital to the peace of the world, and that a temporary measure without violation of principles.

"This question can be decided only by each man and woman voting according to his conscience and his own conviction," he said, and he asserted that those who decide the question realized their responsibility, and that they need not be advised as to their duty.

"Our men of conscience have signed an agreement which does not give recognition to our republic, which does not give us complete freedom, Mr. O'Mara said, and he said that a surrender, or is it but the prelude to another phase of the fight? Does the agreement bar the final attainment of the recognition of the Irish Republic? If those whose duty is now to vote on this treaty decide that these questions can be answered in the affirmative, then the treaty will be ratified and the struggle for recognition of the Republic will go on in a new form. If the answer is in the negative, then Ireland by a vote of its own people will turn its face back once more to the shambles."

'Help Casey With His Bricks,' Is Appeal of Deegan to All Legion Posts in City to Aid New K. of C. Home

Arthur Veins Post to Hold Reception on January 26; Lawrence Lovell Members Plan Dance Next Friday

"Help Casey with his bricks" is the personal appeal of William F. Deegan, state commander of the American Legion, to all posts in greater New York. The Casey is the fraternity of the Knights of Columbus and the bricks are needed to construct a new K. of C. home in which relief and "entertainment" will be available to the former service men.

Commander Deegan in his letter to the commanders says:

"We know that when we needed help during the war Casey was right at the bat all the time and never struck out. Now it is our turn at the bat. Let's show this wonderful organization that backed us up in the past that we are as good as Casey on this side that we are grateful."

"A man is best known by his friends, and he is even better known by the way he treats his friends. The Knights of Columbus, together with a number of other patriotic organizations, was a sincere friend of the soldier when the soldier was in need. Now let us show the type of men we are by aiding that body."

"I know that times are hard for everybody, and especially hard for ex-service men and women, but every little brick bought pushes the walls two inches higher. I hope every member of the American Legion, every ex-service man or woman, will join in this worthy cause. Let us help Casey with his bricks."

Word has been received from Chattanooga, N. Y., of the arrest there by a state trooper of a man who was wanted by the Federal government for evading the draft. The arrest was made at the instigation of the Chattanooga Post of the American Legion, every ex-service man or woman, will join in this worthy cause. Let us help Casey with his bricks."

Dr. Miller Attacks Ban Of Bishop on Dancers

Pastor of Hanson Place Methodist Church Says Profession
Should Be Welcomed

The Rev. Harry Knight Miller, D. D., pastor of the Hanson Place Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, yesterday attacked the dictum of Bishop Joseph T. Berry, in which the bishop declared some time ago that dancing teachers and actors are ineligible for membership in the church. The Rev. Mr. Miller addressed a letter to Louis N. Chalif, 163 West Fifty-seventh street, chairman of the American Council of Dancing Teachers. Mr. Chalif last night made known Dr. Miller's sentiments and added his belief that they represented the true sentiments of the Methodist ministry and laity.

"Despite indiscriminate denunciations of a casual layman, minister or bishop," writes Dr. Miller, "there is no ban in the church against any form of clean and decent amusement. I can see no reason why an actor or dancing instructor, if also a Christian and gentlemanly, should not be admitted to membership in a church where bigotry and prejudice do not hold sway."

In commenting on the letter, Mr. Chalif says:

"Dr. Miller deserves great credit for his brave dismissal of Bishop Berry's ukase against actors and dancing teachers. We wish Dr. Miller, J. Henry Smythe Jr., and other enlightened Methodists success in their progressive attitude."

"To show the magnitude of our problem," he said, "two orders for copper wire aggregated 400,000 pounds each. We have on hand or on the way thirteen carloads of cross-arms, six carloads of pole line hardware and fifty carloads of poles."

"A conservative estimate shows that the storm will cost us upward of $1,500,000. We have 3,000 men at work clearing up wreckage, setting new poles, running lines and connecting telephones."
